

Take back control of your data with GSI Clarity Data Hub

Own your data and do more with it

Small and medium-sized businesses that make strategic use of data are more profitable, competitive and resilient than those that don't.

But being data-driven isn't always easy — especially when a lot of your corporate data is siloed away in different SaaS applications beyond your direct control. That lack of control also makes it hard to ensure your data is protected, private and compliant.

GSI Clarity Data Hub is a fast, easy way to centralize and secure your SaaS data — and get more value from it.

What does Clarity Data Hub deliver?

A single source of truth across all your business applications — CRM, ERP, eCommerce, supply chain and more

Complete ownership and control of your corporate data — wherever it's used and stored

Better business decisions based on custom analytics — slice and dice your data in ways that work for your business

Business continuity and data protection with backup and recovery, privacy measures and compliant security

“GSI has been a valuable Kijiji partner since 2011. They are uniquely capable of working across our business, product and technical teams, which has driven greater focus on our strategic priorities and success in the product planning process.”

Scott Neil, Director Commercial Business, eBay Kleinanzeigen

Consolidating your data has never been easier

Clarity Data Hub is a software-based solution that centralizes data from all your business systems into a single, unified environment under your control. Its perpetual licence model means you pay a one-time software fee for ongoing use — no subscription required.
